STARTING A NEW YEAR

When asked how they felt on the first day of school, some SHS freshmen each gave different answers. Pam Avant said that she had to ask Mr. Brown to help her find her first period class because she didn't know where it was. Chase Coleman said, "I didn't know where my classes were and I was scared that the upperclassmen would pick on me when I was trying to find them." Lisa Forte said that the only bad thing about her first day at SHS was that her first class was in the senior hall. "Other than that," she said, "It was pretty easy."

The first day of school brings about many different feelings. There is fear among Freshmen and new students because they have no idea where their classes are. There is glee and happiness for the folks who are seeing their friends again for the first time in three months. Disgust is present in the hearts and minds of those who were 'having too much fun to come back to school.' For the Seniors, there is a tinge of sadness because it is their last "first day" of high school.

After the classes go to their designated places and receive their schedules (like Kim Baxley, Missy Barnes, and Rhonda Vance are doing), you see friends exchanging schedules, comparing them to see if they have (or don't have?) any classes together. There is groaning in the air as the bell rings and 'the door is unlocked' to a new year. This book gives us A LOOK ON THE INSIDE of this year.

IT'S A "LOVE-A-FAIR"

This is true ... it's a "love-afair"! Everybody loves the annual Grant County Fair and all of the spectacular activities that go along with it such as the parade, the Miss Grant County Pageant, and the rodeo.

The biggest thrills, and most definitely the more memorable ones, are the rides and all of the excitement of "losing your stomach" only to find it again, of course, once the ride is over.

Seniors Becky Warmack and Vicky Vanlandingham enjoy watching others play games.

Trying to win a prize, Senior Robbie Overturf "takes a shot" at one of the midway games.

Tina Adcock and Dawn Blythe consider the 'munchies' at the fair.

Will those gune really shoot? Acting crazy, Angela Campbell and Holly Clark, Seniors, pose for the photographer.

The Squirrel Cage proved to be one of the favorite rides among SHS students at the Grant Co. Fair.

LUNCH TIME LOITERERS?!

Explaining about "the big one that got away," Kevin Boyd makes his friends (Corv Reed Bobby Swihart, Bill Murphy and Quincy Greer) feel as though they were really in the woods

Stanley Hancock enthusiastically leads the students in a cheer during one of the lunch-time pep railies.

The back end of a pick-up truck is usually the most popular place to find friends resting, talking, or goofing off, Here we see Gien Dam pier, Mark Vanlandingham, Kim Randolph, and Connie Kelley "taking it easy."

"The gang's all here!" Travis Gaddis, Tammy Baker, Byron Hicks, Sandra Moltz, Burt Starrett, Scotty Long, Kenny Wilcox Chris Mitchell, and Jason Jordan

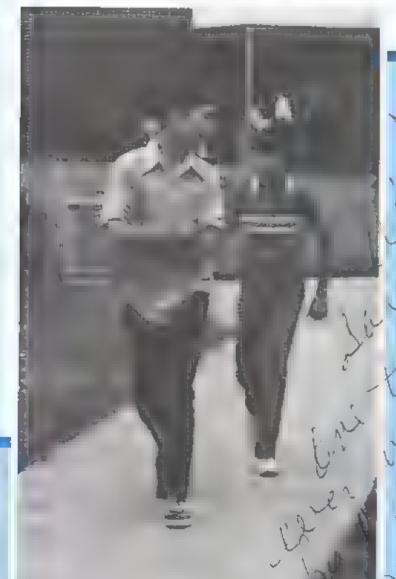

Again we find students sharing the backend of a pickup: Angela Campbell, Tim Cranford, Tammy Wheetley, David Moring, and Ted Taylor

Harvey Harris and Ricky Ponder clown around, providing entertainment for all.

'83 SR. HOMECOMING

"Please don't rain on our parade" was the cry of the SHS students (especially the royalty) as the 1983 Sr. Homecoming activities were being anticipated November 4, 1983.

The royalty and escorts walked to the music of "Charlots of Fire," played by the SHS band. During the assembly, school spirit and lots of Yellowjacket spirit were two greatly noticeable factors of the atmosphere as the cheerleaders cheered and danced and the cantatrice beautifully sang "Starmaker' for the royalty, which caused many who heard it to shed some tears.

After the crowning of the queen, Toni Kelly, students and parents hurried downtown for the parade, made up of people so dedicated that they would stand the cold and damp 51 degree weather to entertain the crowd and, most of all, to support the Yellowjackets.

It was a cold night for the ballgame, but still the devoted Jacket fans showed up to support their team and school. The Yellowjacket spirit of SHS lasted through the Homecoming dance after the game, too, and although the Jackets weren't the victors of the football game, they certainly were the winners of the hearts of all of their families, friends, fellow classmates, and fellow teammates.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

You can see them anywhere from the hails to the gym. What are they? SIGNS!! Have you ever stopped to notice a sign? This year's annual staff did! The variation among signs ranges from promoting school spirit, supporting the team or election signs. The people who have put the work into making them are to be commended for a great job. This includes the individuals, as well as the different organizations. Here's a glimpse at the signs of our times. Do you remember any of these?!

James Spann pushes through the Lakeside defense.

I've seen what I consider, a great deal of progress in our football program this year. Our win-loss record does not indicate it, but we made many positive gains. This season was filled with much misfortune due to many injuries that devastated our potential as a football team. I am proud of the attitude with which our team accepted this and continued to play with good competitive effort. I hope these young men have gained something positive from participating in our football program that will help them be better individuals and better young men in their future endeavors.

"HOW DOES CHEERING, SPIRIT, AND CROWD SUPPORT AFFECT THE TEAM?"

"Spirit helps the team a lot. When we were down and not doing so well the band would kick in and start playing. When they started playing it made the whole team feel like it was either 'do or die'.

We always had good fan support, no matter where we played, home or away. We were grateful to have that support. Although we didn't win many games, it was great to have the fans behind us!" --- Neal Porter

"The spirit gets us fired up for the games, because we know that people are watching and cheering and that they are behind us all the way. The more spirit they have, the more we want to win.

Without the spirit around us, the games would seem like a practice.

I think we have the best school spirit of everyone around. Most people really don't know how it affects the team. It really makes us play harder to win." --- Jerry Beck

"When there are a lot of people cheering for us it makes us want to play our best and win, because we know that we have people standing behind us and wanting us to win-not only for ourselves but for our school too." --- Tamala Reeves

"The spirit of the fans helps the team a lot. When the crowd gets into the game, it gives our team a big boost and takes the opponent out of the game." — James Spann

"Spirit really helps the team. When the crowd is fired up, the team is too and it makes us play a lot better." --- Craig Cole

The Sheridan Jackette Volleyball Team was the 1983 District 5 AAA champs. They did an outstanding job and beat a highly respected Malvern team in the finals to win the tournament. Three players from Sheridan were named to the All-District Team and they were seniors Margie Rice, Renay Fiser, and Beverly Paty. Renay Fiser was also selected the Most Valuable Player in the tournament. The Jackettes coach, Beverly Scott, was named Outstanding Volleyball Coach in the region. After winning the District tournament, Sheridan went on to play in the Class AAA State Tournament held at Henderson State University. The SHS varsity cheerleaders have done a great job this year in helping to increase school spirit. Not only have they helped get more people involved in school activities by creations such as the "Sting Hunt," they've also given school spirit a new meaning at SHS. Their support helped to make this year in athletics a big success.

The snake dance was an exciting event for the cheerleaders.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

After a hard practice, the enthusiastic cheerleaders still have plenty of energy. Here they use some of that excess energy to pose for our photographer.

The 1983-84 Jr. Cheerleaders have shown their spirit this year by supporting the Stinger team. They attended an ICF camp at Henderson during the summer and won the Junior Grand Champs trophy along with several ribbons.

SHS JACKETTEERS

The members of the Jacketteers know that hard practice pays off.

In its fourth year of existance the Jacketeers are as great as ever. At the end of last year the Jacketeers won sweepstakes at State Contest in Russellville. They do many things in their year around preparation for contest. This year they went to winter camp at NLR Ole Main where they received 36 superior and 2 excellent individual ratings. Each summer the Jacketeers work with a private choreographer from Texas, Lynn Archer. The Jacketeers are trying to work with more band arrangements of songs selected in order to work more closely with our SHS band. They strive to achieve a variety in their routines which include jazz, high kick, prop, marching and novelty.

By helping raise spirit at the games, the Jacketteers are a very important part of the basketball season.

DUNGEONS

& DRAGONS

Your torch light only permits you to see about 10 feet of the passage that lies ahead of you. The floor is made of smooth stone. The walls have relief carvings on them and upon examination you can see that they depict some type of weird beast. You move about thirty feet and then the passage turns to the right. Cautiously you peer around the corner and in the flickering torch light you can make out a large door. When you move closer you see that it is a heavy oak door with bronze hardware. The door is unlocked so you draw your sword and use its magic to see if it can detect any traps. You sense no traps on or around the door. Next you place your ear to the door and you hear a moaning that rises and then fades away. Now what is your next move ...

This is an example of a fantasy role playing game. Dungeons and Dragons is an exercise in imagination and personal creativity. The organizer of the campaign, the dungeon master, must use the system to devise an individual and unique world.

As a role player, you can become a fighter, wizard, or even a thief. With all this in mind you are now ready to enter the world of D. and D.

Advisor- Mr Burton.

The members plan their strategy.

Dee Dee Reeves consults the rules book for instructions.

For the past eight years the Junior ROTC program has received the National Honor Unit with Distinction Award for being one of the best schools in the country. Its program of instruction is designed to prepare the student for leadership positions in the future. It also helps to develop character-building skills such as self discipline, self reliance, team work, and how to get along with others. Its color guard, drill and rifle teams rate with the best in the state.

There is a lot of hard work in JROTC, but students also have fun by participating in the many activities available to them: helicopter rides, hunter safety, marksmanship, picnics, field exercises, parades, military balls, summer camps, rappelling, and trips with competitive teams.

IBM AGE

Something new and exciting has been happening at SHS this year. Early in '83 our administration and school board decided we needed to 'get with' the computer age. Fifteen IBM-PC's were purchased; a room was located; three instructors went to summer school; three sections were offered to juniors and seniors; and we were on our way. There are seventy-two students learning about the history, language, and programming of computers.

Roben Keen and Evelyn Thomason work on trying to figure out a program.

CREATIVE CLASSES

The art program that we have covers a lot more than just a lot of drawing and painting. You would also think that covering the basic principle would be enough. They do this plus mosaics, work with per and ink, lettering, and sculpturing with toothpicks.

Donits Atchley concentrates on where her next toothpick will go.

Main does an art carving.

Pamela Adams puts the finishing touches on her mosaic.

Just like the stars in the sky We all come together-

There are the dreams that we have:
The wishes we hope for,
But we know that the only way
They will come true is if
We still have friends like YOU!
